NOTES

Orlandi's canzone summarizes the content of the Triumph. In the second stanza Orlandi states that he will illustrate the five subjects of Petrarch's work. The text of the canzone makes precise references to Petrarch's work, with a particular focus on the mythological figures (such as Jupiter, Mars, Proserpine) mentioned in the Triumph.

Two marginal annotations to Triumphus Amoris I and III by a later hand provide some content-based explanations to historical names mentioned in the capitoli.

Decorated initials for RVF 1 (fol. 12r), Triumphus Amoris I (fol. 157r), and Boccaccio's epistle (fol. 197r); coloured initials for all the other RVF poems, the beginning of all the other *Triumph*i and each subsequent capitolo; at fols. 12r, 157r, and 197r is an architectural frame; at the bottom of fols. 12r and 157r is a coat of arms.

At fols. 58v and 74r-74v, RVF 114 and 136-138 are fully crossed out by pen.

Fol. 11 was remade in 1554 (see Pellegrin 1966, 170 [= II, 348]).

A microfilm (MF 13369) was used to create this entry.
